More Graffiti

September 2018

Welcome to this month's truncated edition of More Graffiti magazine. A number of issues have dictated that this month's offering is only a news-sheet rather than a full magazine. Normal service will be resumed next month.

SUMMER BARBECUE

Following the unfortunate cancellation of the original Summer Barbecue, the rearranged event took place on a bright, warm and sunny Sunday at the start of the month. The new venue, the Rushden Historical Transport Society's Goods Yard, proved to be a superb location. With a number of the original organising team being unable to attend, the remainder covered all areas and provided the attending members and guests with excellent food and company.

One notable absentee was Val Arnold who was convalescing at home following an urgent surgical procedure. Everyone at the barbecue signed a get well card offering their best wishes for a speedy recovery which, when received by Val proved to be a big surprise and "really lifted" her spirits.

ROSE OF THE SHIRES 2019

Holidays are over and it's time to start preparing for next year's event. Next month, we shall be starting the planning with a meeting on Thursday 4th October at 7.30pm (please note, this is a change from that noted in the last month's mid-month newsletter). If you wish to be a part of our organising team, contact one of the club committee members so that we can keep you informed with the meeting details. This will allow everyone interested to learn what is involved and see how they can help as well as starting the planning process.

Coombe Abbey,
Friday, 14th
September

There are a pair of tickets available for the event this coming Friday. If you are interested or, if already attending and have friends who would like to join in, contact Jo Tibbs on 07720 911993 as soon as possible.

There is also a double room booked for Friday night at the local Holiday Inn which is available. Again, contact Jo for details.

Piston & Props,
22/23 September.

There is potentially a space for this event - contact Jo if you are interested
